Funeral Services For Arthur T. Burt

Funeral services over the remains of Arthur Burt, who passed away early last Thursday morning at the Jacques home here, were held in the 2nd Ward Chapel Monday at 2 p.m. with Bishop L. L. Palmer in charge. Due to the busy season following two weeks storm, the attendance was rather small, but the audience present and the lovely floral offerings were silent tribute to the respect that all who knew him had for this fine man.

Hymns by the choir were "Abide with Me," "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "I Need Thee Every Hour," and Mesdames Ruth Salmon and Madge Fairbanks sang a duet "The Old Rugged Cross," and Mrs. Maybelle Anderson played an organ solo.

The opening prayer was by Elder John F. Salmon, the benediction by Elder Rulon H. Dahl and the grave was dedicated by Elder C. B. Smith.

Speakers were Elder Clarence E. Alred and Jas. S. Anderson who spoke of the fine character of deceased as a neighbor and a Christian, whose word was to be depended upon and who was fair and honest in his dealings and expected the same of others. They spoke of the plan of life and salvation in the hereafter and the opportunities that everyone would have of hearing and accepting the saving principles of truth, either here or hereafter. They spoke too of the patience in suffering of deceased after losing his one eye, and for the past two years the sight of both eyes.

Bishop Palmer paid tribute to the life of deceased and on behalf of the family thanked all who had so kindly assisted in so many ways. Interment was in the local cemetery with Christensen Bros. in charge.

In the passing of Arthur Burt, the district lost a resident of many years standing who had won the admiration and respect of all by his fine character and high standard of dealing. He was a man of quiet and retiring disposition and to appreciate him, one had to become well acquainted with him. He lost the sight of one eye eight or ten years ago in an accident, and about three or four years ago the other eye commenced to weaken and for the last two years he was almost totally blind. His magnificent courage in the face of this handicap earned the respect of all and we extend our sympathies to the relatives in their loss.

Don Wilde received a nasty cut above his left eye Wednesday afternoon when the crank slipped off the engine he was cranking and hit him just above the eye.

Sergt Lorrains Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Shirley King were speakers in the 2nd Ward Sacrament meeting and all gave interesting talks to a large congregation present. Mesdames Ruth Salmon and Madge Fairbanks sang a vocal duet.

Don't Forget Friday October 12th.

The National Clothing Committee during the past few weeks have asked us to say "Thanks" for been items stressing the crying need the clothing bundles that have already been sent in, as this shows that people are awake to the need for 100 per cent support in this drive.

Don't forget October 12th. On this day, commencing right after midnight, a house to house canvass will be made of the entire town, tracks and cars being offered for use, and canvassers enough collected so that the job will be finished up in this much to be grateful for. Let us show one afternoon. Remember Friday Oct. 12th.

VIOLINIST

Heard with John Newmark, pianist, in a series of Sunday evening recitals devoted to Mozart's sonatas for violin and piano (Dominion News, Oct. 6:00 p.m. CST) is Noel Brune, Montreal violinist. Brune entered the McGill Conservatorium of Music in his early teens, and won several scholarships. He went to Brussels at twenty, on a Quebec government scholarship.

WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?

"I cannot forget the sight I saw this morning," an American army officer stated in his report of conditions in Yugoslavia. "A long line, mostly women and children, dressed in tattered, ragged, and filthy clothing no one at home would even handle. Harsh bags for dresses, old rags around their shoulders, old rags wrapped around their feet. One of the boys boasted a coat, but it had been patched in fifty places."

Through your contribution of serviceable used clothing, shoes and blankets to the National Clothing Collection, the sorry state of these war sufferers and other a disfigurement can be corrected.

There is a National Clothing Collection receiving depot in your neighborhood. Apparels is delivered there.

NEWS NOTES

Miss Violet Palm, who works in the Greyhound Bus depot in Lethbridge spent Sunday here returning to her work Monday morning.

Ralph Byrne was busy this week installing his two gasoline pumps in front of his garage. Owen Larsen did the electrical work for him.

Noel's Canadian played at Hill Spring Friday night for the 1st and 2nd Ward Sacrament meeting. The draw for the party was made at midnight and a little girl in Warner had the lucky number. Red Stone said they surely had a crowd at the dance.

The Haunted House

(By Edna Jaques)

Remember when you were a kid and there was a haunted house on the next street.

Remember how you got of in the past if it you were out after dark and how, even in the daytime, the windows seemed to hold shadows & little story, so up into your attic you shivered just looking at it?

Well - you're grown up now and you know there are no ghosts or haunted houses But are you SURE?

If we let the people of Europe die—for a little timely aid in the way of clothing—there will be haunted hearts in every hole and corner of Canada.

Not only that, but we'll have a haunted world where the ghosts of these people will haunt us as long as we live.

They didn't deserve the fate that came upon them. Millions of them were gentle, kindly folk, men with humble jobs and little growing families just like us. But they came to their village, along the quiet roads—centuries old—where the Crusaders marched, where country people for ages had traded in the market, where wedding processions passed and funerals of the dead.

Along by Caen where William the Conqueror built a cathedral of Falaise where Canadian boys fought, and Arrhen in the Reichswall Forest at lovely Appeldoorn.

It was just OUR good luck that we were born on this Continent. We've always been lucky that way. We have good neighbours to the south of us, strong, peaceful people who have as much as we do.

It could have been different. If we had Germany for a neighbour, the fate of 125 million Europeans might have been ours.

The A & T Shop had a telephone installed Thursday.

The bi-weekly meeting and luncheon of the local branch of the Legion was held in the Sugar Bowl last Friday night. The first hour was devoted to a discussion and consideration by the Vets of the problems of rehabilitation of the returning leave agent at home.

Proclamation

WHEREAS as many war victims have died from exposure and lack of adequate clothing as have died from starvation, and

WHEREAS of those remaining alive, more than 30,000,000 are virtually naked, and more than four times that number, 125,000,000, are in desperate need of clothing, and

WHEREAS since enough new clothing for the relief of these unfortunate people does not now exist anywhere in the world and

WHEREAS an available large source of clothing for overseas relief is the serviceable used clothing now lying in Canadian homes, and

WHEREAS the Canadian Government has authorized a nation wide collection of all serviceable used clothing which does not have to be replaced by new for the donor's own use, and

WHEREAS Canadian Voluntary War Relief agencies have agreed to suspend their national and local campaigns and public collections of clothing during September, October and November, 1915, and join with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration have been ours. Starvation, have been blown to atoms, all our clothing except what we stood up in stolen from us, our good, warm bedding sent back to Germany.

In thankfulness for our escape, the minute you finish reading this story, go up into your attic or into your clothes closets and take out that unused suit, it still has good wear and warmth in it. Or that dress loved "many pounds ago," as one woman put it.

Here are the things most urgently needed:

Suits, men's, women's, and children's. Old coats, Skirts, Trousers, Dresses, Blouses, Aprons, Overalls, Men's Women's and children's. Jackets in all sizes. Scarves and shawls. Foot wear (fastened together in pairs).

Under the Canadian United All Relief Fund on behalf of UNRRA a clothing collection is being held in Canada from October 1st to 25th. The purpose of this is to secure serviceable used clothing for the needy and destitute people in the liberated areas of Europe and China.

Only such garments as can be spared from your wardrobe without replacement are asked for. The whole-hearted co-operation of everyone in Canada is needed to make this drive a success. Next winter will be too late—the need is NOW!

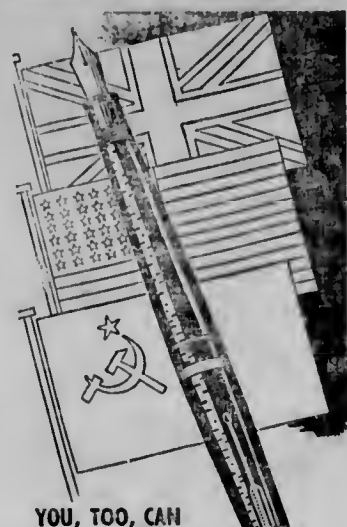

Let's not talk about peace or love or any other hope until we have met this mortal need. Deaths from exposure now outnumber deaths from starvation. Diseases takes quick roads when a body is cold.

WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?

Men. From 9 p.m. the social was held consisting of a brief program, that refreshments and community singing. A very enjoyable time is reported.

Rold Walker of the Canadian Army returned to Calgary on Sunday to report for duty after a 30 day leave spent at home.

Sugar Factory Started Tuesday Morning

Camellan Sugar Factories plants F. R. Taylor of the Agricultural Department of the Government is quite optimistic about the crop, especially since the crop-maturing, October 2nd, on what promises to be the biggest sugar making season in the history of the industry in Southern Alberta. The latest official estimate from the Agricultural Department of the Government is a harvest of 360,000 tons and it is believed that the average sugar content of the crop may reach 18 per cent although lower than that in the spring, and the two dry months of July and August. ### "FOR WANT OF A NAIL—"

"For want of a nail a shoe was lost—"

Most of us are familiar with the military adage which opens with that line and goes on to tell how the missing nail, by costing the loss of a shoe, cost the loss of a horse, of the general who rode it and ultimately, the loss of the battle in which the general's leadership was essential to victory.

Through its frequent repetition, or through sayings of similar character, the lesson of the importance of seemingly trivial things to great achievements has been pretty well established in Canadian minds.

Yet, we wonder how many have thought of the importance of their lug from the lack of essential clothing—clothes, shoes and bedding—to the restoration of this war-torn world and the wholesome and lasting peace which we all desire when the final victory over the Axis nations is won.

For the five or more years of Axis aggression, millions of the Men, Women and Children—innocent victims of the Nazis and Japs—have died of exposure or diseases traceable thereto. As our valiant armies liberated their lands and freed their peoples the full extent of their suffering and their present desperate needs were revealed—large families forced to share tattered garments scarcely adequate to cover a single person; children and older people forced to remain in their shattered hovels or to step forth virtually naked into the rigors of harsh climates; other Axis-made conditions equally appalling.

And these are the people who, if a real peace is to come after final victory, must rebuild their broken homes and towns and cities; theirs are the children who, with ours, must join in making this a finer and more peaceful world.

Can we expect such things of them while they are sick and suffer thought of the importance of their lug from the lack of essential clothing?

For their want of such clothing the full fruits of ultimate victory over the Axis can be lost.

But there is no need for any such lack while the nitties and other storage places in millions of Canadian homes are hung or crated with castoff, yet still serviceable, SPARE clothes, shoes and bedding.

Millions of pounds of such materials, useless and never to be used by us are available to the war-ravaged destitute. The National Clothing Collection, which opened October 1, is designed to transfer our serviceable castoffs to these stricken peoples. And now is the time for you to rail your attic or catch-all storeroom and force it to yield its share of usable apparel to those in desperate need.

"WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?"

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Melchin and children, Mrs. Gerald Melchin and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gibb left by car Thursday morning to attend a conference in Salt Lake City this week end.

A GOOD FARMER IS A GOOD PLANNER

It's the man who looks ahead who gets ahead.

GOOD management . . . essential to successful farming, as to any business enterprise . . . is largely a matter of timely marketing and careful spending . . . waiting for the time when it is most favourable to buy.

We all want things now . . . things we have not been able to get for the past several years. Some of these things are necessities . . . some are things that will contribute to our comforts and pleasures.

Eventually, these things will be more plentiful. By waiting a little longer we will help to keep prices of things we need at lower levels and we will buy at better advantage when we do buy.

Meantime we can invest our savings in the safest securities obtainable . . . Victory Bonds. More Victory Bonds will be offered this Fall. They pay 3% interest . . . double bank interest . . . and they are "liquid capital".

If we need cash in an emergency any bank will buy Victory Bonds at any time. And any bank will loan money on Victory Bonds.

The Ninth Victory Loan will be our last opportunity to buy Victory Bonds for a whole year, so buy double this time—the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12 month period.

FARMERS CAN BUY VICTORY BONDS ON CONVENIENT DEFERRED PAYMENTS THROUGH ANY BANK

. . . just sign a short form letter which Victory Loan Salesmen carry (banks have copies) ordering the bank to buy Victory Bonds for you. Pay 5% when ordering and the balance at any time during the next 12 months. The interest the bonds earn pays the interest on the bank loan.

HOME STORAGE OF VEGETABLES

also adds to the attractiveness of the roots. Well-cured and dried cabbages can be kept in good condition through the winter in cold dry storage. An unheated attic or dry room which is well insulated is quite satisfactory. Freezing and thawing will not damage them but continued freezing and thawing will. Select only well ripened bulbs having which should be left at least one and one-half inches long on the neck for storage.

Cabbage will tolerate moderate frosts and is therefore usually not placed in storage till October or later, depending on the weather. Only late or storage varieties of cabbage, e.g., Danish Ballhead, will be perfectly sound, and not too ripe should be stored. Cool and moist conditions with good ventilation are the best for this crop. The use of slat shelves on which the heads are piled one or two layers deep is considered the best method.

Celery may be stored for two to three months if uniform temperature conditions of about 32 degrees F. such as are found in an ice house can be provided. Plants are placed upright in slatted crates and the crates should not be packed closely as this prevents good air circulation. If cold storage such as this is not available celery may be kept for some time in cool cellar in the same manner as outlined above boxes or stored in a cool place. This except that the roots are placed Pumpkins and squash require a relatively warm, dry storage; a temperature range of 50 to 55 degrees F. appears best. Only well matured, carefully handled stock which is free from injury should be put in storage. Hard-shell varieties such as Hubbard and Small Sugar Thompson are most successful in storage.

Other vegetables of similar types as those discussed above may be stored in a similar manner. For example, root parsley and winter radish may be stored in the same way as other root crops.

We supplied only 44,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

In most liberated European countries, there is a desperate shortage of meat.

As a great food-producing nation, Canada must, can—and will—help to meet the emergency.

The job will not be finished at the year's end. Food shortages in Europe will continue until the next harvest.

This year, Europe is relying on Canada for a minimum of 789 million pounds of beef, pork and canned meat.

Up to the end of August, only 479 million pounds had been sent.

How soon can we bridge the gap?

Livestock marketings are normally at their heaviest in the last four months of the year.

If we are to help feed the hungry peoples of devastated Europe, this is the time to make our greatest effort.

To do our part, we must reduce our own consumption of meat and also assure that everyone in Canada gets a fair share.

That is why rationing is necessary.

MEAT RATIONING ADDS TO EVERYONE'S WORK

The producer who slaughters, the retailer who sells, the consumer who buys and eats—they all play a vital part.

AS A CONSUMER, HERE IS HOW YOU CAN CO-OPERATE

1. Try to plan your meat purchases before leaving home by determining what cuts you intend to buy and their approximate weights.
2. Make sure you have enough valid coupons and tokens to cover your proposed purchases by referring to the Consumer Coupon Value Chart and the Coupon and Token Calculator. Copies may be obtained from your Local Ration Board or Ration Branch.
3. Know the dates your "M" coupons become valid.
4. Do not buy more meat than you really need.
5. Avoid shopping at rush hours.
6. Be patient. Remember—your butcher may have inexperienced help.

Mothers and fathers should take junior's life away from him if it is an "Army and Navy Target Kite" equipped with wire cord, according to a warning issued today by the excellent Prevention Committee of the Edison Electric Institute. The wire cord should be replaced with cotton or linen twine—and this goes for any type of kite.

Such a break of kite was recently sold with 2,000 feet of insulated copper wire. If the wire, covered or otherwise, should come in contact with overhead electric transmission lines an injurious or even fatal amount of current would be carried to the boy on the ground.

Stores selling these kites removed the wire cord from those remaining in stock after the danger had been pointed out to them.

Other rules for present and future kite flyers are:—Always use cotton or linen string—metal or twisted wire is dangerous, fly kites in open fields.

To donors and others who have contributed in any way to the RED CROSS WARTIME BLOOD DONOR Service

in Alberta Division Clinics

Dear Friends:

This letter is to say "THANK YOU!"

The volunteer Blood Donor Service of the Canadian Red Cross Society was established on January 29, 1940. Since that time, we have received over 2,300,000 blood donations in Canada. As we are now closing the service from a war standpoint, we would like to express to you our sincere appreciation for the blood donations you have so generously given.

There is always a joy in doing something for another but there is a special joy when it means the saving of a life. This Service has been the means of saving the lives of hundreds of our men in the Army, the Navy and the Air Force; so you, by your co-operation, have had a part in it. We know this thought will fully repay you.

Now regarding the future. It is most unfortunate that many deaths occur in the hospitals in Canada annually because of the lack of a proper transfusion service. The Red Cross is an organization of mercy and we are now surveying the field in Canada with a view of setting up a service to provide blood for transfusion purposes in all hospitals.

It is anticipated that it will take at least three months to complete the survey; so we again say "Thank you" for your assistance during the war period and we most earnestly request that you join with us when the new service is established in continuing to play a part in the saving of human life—something so dear to all.

Yours sincerely,

DR. R. G. RILEY,
Chairman, Blood Donor Committee.
